DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment filed on March 1, 2005 has been entered. Claim 5 has been amended. No claim has been cancelled, or added. Claims 1-14 are still pending in this application, with claims 1, 5 and 10 being independent.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, drawn to cushioning frame for illumination devices, classified in class 362, subclass 390.
- II. Claims 5-9, drawn to rechargeable illumination devices, classified in class 362, subclass 183.
- III. Claims 10-14, drawn to means for changing the color of light emitted by a light source, classified in class 362, subclass 278.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, Invention I has separate utility such as protecting a vehicle headlamp in the event of a minor impact to such headlamp. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Art Unit: 2875

Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, Invention II has separate utility such as providing a source of illumination that removed from a vehicle and used in case of an emergency. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions III and I are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, Invention III has separate utility such as emitting a light of a plurality of colors from a single light source. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
